

Meet Becky

Second Shift Section Leader

I guide, support and manage two teams. My role within the teams is to ensure stock levels are maintained and stock integrity remains at a high level, as well as ensuring orders are fulfilled and objectives are complete. Running and participating in regular team meetings allows us to evaluate performance and compare current progress towards the set plan, while ensuring that all customer requirements are met so we can “enable to mission critical”.

Work-life balance and Teamwork

“The twilight shift suits me perfectly as I’m not a morning person”

The variety of shifts and flexible working at Incora means that there is something to suit all. The twilight shift is great for me as I’m not an early riser and this fits around my private life.

After working on the twilight shift for a number of years now, I believe morale and team spirit brings the shift together to achieve 100% on time delivery. Interaction and engagement are essential throughout the team to ensure success because each member of the team contributes by adding his or her individual competencies to achieve our ambitions. Teamwork is something I value in my daily job as it acts as a link between trust and motivation, and it helps me as a leader, to build a collaborative environment.
