Nestor's career path at Incora

- Material controller – 2018
Fort worth, TX

Focus on Growth and Development

"Continuously provided me opportunities to grow"

Part of my role involves ensuring that whatever passes through my hands has zero defects, which allows us to "enable the mission critical".

One of the many great things about working for Incora is that you are never seen as a number, you're always seen as a person. I have had some amazing opportunities here, such as travelling to various suppliers to see what really happens from their side and meeting all the great people that I work with daily. The highlight for me has been the management team which I have, mistakes are not ridiculed but used as a bridge between strengths and weaknesses.

If you are considering a career with Incora, I would say that it is a great learning experience where you will be challenged but you'll be able to celebrate your achievements. If I had to describe Incora in one word, it would be...empowering!
